fourteen essayists break new ground by focusing on a new generation of postmodern poets who are clearly indebted to John Ashbery's work. This concentration on Ashbery's influence on contemporary American poetry provides new methods for interpreting and understanding his poetic achievement.

Re-envisioning the contemporary art canon perspectives in a global world seeks to dissect and interrogate the nature of the present-day art field which has experienced dramatic shifts in the past 50 years. In discussions of the canon of art history, the notion of inclusiveness both at the level of rhetoric and as a desired practice is on the rise and gradually replacing talk of exclusion which dominated critiques of the canon up until two decades ago. The art field has dramatically and insufficiently changed in the half-century since the first protests and critiques of the exclusion of others from the art canon. With increased globalization and shifting geopolitics, the art field is expanding beyond its Euro-American focus as is particularly evident in the large-scale international biennales now held all over the globe. Are canons and counter-canons still relevant? Can they be re-envisioned rather than merely revised? Following an introduction that discusses these issues, thirteen newly commissioned essays present case studies of consecration in the contemporary art field, and three commissioned discussions present diverse positions on issues of the canon and consecration processes. Today, this volume will be of interest to instructors and students of contemporary art, art history, and museum and curatorial studies.
